Dear Outstanding Podcast,

Jazz for Peace™ rose from the ashes of the horrifying tragedy of 9/11 starting with a poem written by acclaimed Jazz Pianist, Vocalist, Composer and Founder Rick DellaRatta that was written witnessing those very events on a rooftop less than a quarter of a mile away from Ground Zero on that fateful morning.

His extraordinary Journey to live up to the words of that poem starting with a historic concert at the United Nations that brought together Israeli, Palestinian, and American musicians for the very first time followed by over 850 "Jazz for Peace feat. Rick DellaRatta" Events Worldwide has since led to the truly amazing story that you are about to read below along with testimonials from great Americans, world leaders and hundreds of previous Grant recipients here: <https://jazzforpeace.wordpress.com/about/> All of which making him an extremely popular podcast guest with literally hundreds of amazing stories ALREADY told and hundreds MORE to tell from both his extraordinary past as well as the constant "breaking news" surrounding him that only seems to make his journey more and more relevant with each passing day:

"World events have conspired to make the benevolent Jazz mission of Rick DellaRatta more pertinent with each days newspapers headlines." ~ Cadence Magazine

"By bringing Israeli, Palestinian and American Jazz musicians together Rick DellaRatta and Jazz for Peace have used the transcendent quality of music to promote a message of peace and unity. Now, over 500 concerts later, Jazz for Peace continues its mission of challenging humanity to realize that the forces that unite us are far stronger than the forces that divide us....I want to congratulate Rick and Jazz for Peace on everything they have accomplished to this point, and all the good they are sure to bring about as they continue this concert series...." ~ As Spoken by United States Presidential Candidate Barack Obama on July 26th, 2008

FROM THE JAZZ FOR PEACE™ ARCHIVES: On December 26th 2015, Jazz Pianist, Vocalist & Composer Rick DellaRatta , as part of over 850 other similarly philanthropic and artistic activities, went completely unarmed with nothing but his musical talent to the same vicinity of Pakistan where US Army soldier Bo Bergdahl was held captive for more than 5 years, in order to perform a concert to raise funds and awareness for a Christian based organization that teaches mothers how to read so they can teach their children in order to stave off the recruitment of illiterate children to join terrorist groups. Thereby being able to accomplish all by himself what it might cost in the tens of millions to accomplish militarily or otherwise.

'It was indeed a pleasure to perform with Rick and the other musicians at the United Nations on September 25, 2002, especially at a time when the raw emotions of 9/11 were still so fresh. It has always been my firm belief that only through cultural and trade interaction will the nations in the Middle East find common ground, and eventually the mutual respect that will make a Peace possible. I greatly appreciated the opportunity Rick provided to make my musical voice heard at such a great venue for such a great purpose. I also appreciated the opportunity to perform with such a diverse group of musicians, hopefully creating music that reflected that diversity." ~ Richard Khuzami, Percussionist - Lebanon <https://www.peacebuttons.info/E-News/peacehistoryseptember.htm#september25>

LinkedIn Podcast Review Thursday July 20, 2023

  My Box Seat View for 9/11: Interview with Rick DellaRatta, a Famous Jazz Musician from Jazz for Peace™

In a deeply moving interview on The Meaningful Jazz Podcast, I had the privilege of speaking with Rick, a renowned jazz musician and founder of Jazz for Peace. Our conversation took a poignant turn as Rick shared his personal account of a close encounter with the tragic events of 9/11.

As a talented musician, Rick often found himself performing in various venues across New York City. On that fateful day, he had a scheduled gig in a jazz club located near the World Trade Center. Little did he know that he was about to witness a moment in history that would change the world forever.

From his box seat, Rick had a direct view of the Twin Towers when the unthinkable happened. The devastating events unfolded before his eyes, leaving him stunned, filled with both fear and sorrow. The sheer magnitude of the situation weighed heavily on him, as he saw firsthand the impact it had on countless lives.

Despite the immense tragedy and chaos surrounding him, Rick channeled his emotions into his music. He played with an intensity and passion that expressed both the pain and hope that resonated throughout the city in those dark hours. Through his jazz improvisations, Rick provided a voice for the countless individuals affected by the events of that day.

This interview with Rick serves as a powerful testament to the resilience of the human spirit and the healing power of music. It reminds us that even in the face of unimaginable tragedy, art has the ability to bring solace, unite communities, and inspire change.

Through his organization, Jazz for Peace, Rick continues to use his musical talents to spread a message of hope, unity, and peace. By harnessing the power of jazz, he aims to bring comfort and healing to those affected by tragedy and injustice around the world.

I am deeply grateful to Rick for sharing his personal story and his unwavering commitment to making a positive impact through his music. His journey serves as a poignant reminder that art has the power to transcend boundaries, heal wounds, and create a more harmonious world.

If you haven't had the opportunity to listen to this extraordinary interview, I highly recommend tuning in. Prepare to be moved by Rick's first hand account of 9/11 and his inspiring journey of using jazz as a force for peace and healing.

”One of my favorite things about having a new guest each week on the Passion on Purpose; Leaders on Center Stage podcast is that every single one of them teaches me something new! And my interview with Rick DellaRatta was nothing short of ‘something new!’ I just have to say thank you so much Rick for coming on the show and being such a good sport! Before we got on the air, I knew that Rick was going to be a ball of energy, but I did not know that he would bring a serenade with him as well! I’m so excited for you to hear his episode while we’re still finagling with the production elements (us learning something new), I’m so excited to be able to bring a little bit of jazz for you to listen to on our show! Rick, again thank you for being such a great sport, thinking so innovatively on how we can get your message and the great work you do through jazz for peace to the masses, and believing in the work we’re doing here on the show! I can’t wait for your episode air later this month!” ~ Steph Hilfer, Host - Passion on Purpose Podcast

NEW FOR 2024:

Jazz for Peace™ Founder Rick DellaRatta listed as one of the worlds "Most Viewed Global Entrepreneurs"

Dear Outstanding Podcast,

Jazz for Peace™ rose from the ashes of the horrifying tragedy of 9/11 starting with a poem written by acclaimed Jazz Pianist, Vocalist, Composer and Founder Rick DellaRatta that was written witnessing those very events on a rooftop less than a quarter of a mile away from Ground Zero on that fateful morning.

His extraordinary Journey to live up to the words of that poem starting with a historic concert at the United Nations that brought together Israeli, Palestinian, and American musicians for the very first time followed by over 850 Jazz for Peace feat. Rick DellaRatta Events Worldwide has since led to the truly amazing story that you are about to read below along with testimonials from great Americans, world leaders and hundreds of previous Grant recipients here: <https://jazzforpeace.wordpress.com/about/> making him an extremely popular podcast guest as detailed here: <https://jazzforpeace.org/foryourpodcast.pdf>

Breaking News: NEW BOOK!! ~ "At this stage of his life he has surely lived up to all that has been asked of him musically and is now taking us on a journey BEYOND those lofty heights, personalizing songs to a new level of delivery with his voice, arrangements and compositions while vaulting listeners into "rarefied air" with his "otherworldly" piano improvisations." ~ From the NEW Book "Rick DellaRatta: Paving the Path for Peace through Music!" <https://capture.dropbox.com/tFncAsDJviKOHnuY>
